whose Wisdom Man's thought cannot surpass

Baraye Azadi Group's Mission Statement

Since 2018 AD, the Baraye Azadi Group has embarked on its human-rights activities for Iran's Freedom in Austria.

This group sees the overthrow of the Islamic Republic regime as the only path to freedom for Iran.

(This includes all branches and elements of it, notably: the Supreme Leader's Office, the Revolutionary Guards Corps, all repressive intelligence and military organs inside and outside the country, regime's lobbyists (such as the NIAC), fake regime's opposition, and all rights exploiters and Iranians enemies who feed off the blood of the Iranians.)

This group believes that after the downfall of the Islamic Republic government, all individuals who, during the existence of the Islamic Republic, directly or indirectly played a role in oppression, imprisonment, harming, and massacring the people of Iran, as well as looting national wealth and destroying the ecosystem of this land, either through holding official positions or backing such individuals, should be prosecuted in competent and public courts.

The group firmly adheres to four principles for freedom: secularism, democracy, territorial integrity, and a referendum to determine the type of government by the people of Iran (after the downfall).

The group believes that only through unity around the axis of Iranian nationalism and patriotism can victory be achieved over the evil of the Islamic Republic. Based on this, they consider Prince Reza Pahlavi as the most deserving individual at present for leading and guiding the freedom movement of the Iranian people due to his belief in Iranian nationalism, patriotism, democracy, secularism, territorial integrity, and also a referendum to determine the type of government by the people of Iran (after the downfall).

The group currently recognizes the Shir-o-Khorshid flag (Lion and Sun flag) as the current flag of Iran (the last official flag of Iran belonging to the Pahlavi government before the establishment of the Islamic Republic). They believe that in the future of freedom, the design of the national flag, like any other national issue, will be based on the votes and opinions of the Iranian people.

Long live Iran and the Iranians
